EMBED WIDGET CHECKLIST

INSTRUCTIONS

It's important for you to share and promote your events as many places as possible. HTML embed widget are these amazing tools where you can take a block of HTML code and place that directly inside of your website. These embed widgets allow for ServiceReef functionality to sit natively in your website. HTML embed widgets update automatically so each time a user accesses your website they view your most up to date information from ServiceReef.

ADDITIONAL TIPS: Don't worry, you don't need to be a web developer to make this happen. Most websites (like WordPress or SquareSpace) easily allow you to paste in a code block like this. Talk this over with whoever manages your website or give it a try yourself. It's as simple as a copy/paste function. Test it and see what you think and if something doesn't work then just delete or code or undo what you have done. We have intentionally made these easy to use so anyone would be able to embed these features in their website. You really can do this!
