

POLICY

Posting pictures to any social media site while on a mission trip is strictly prohibited. This applies to the team leader(s), team members, and Southeast Christian staff.

Posting During a Mission Trip

Southeast does not permit short-term trip members to post to social media during any Southeast mission trip unless explicitly given permission by the team leader. For example, a team member may be shoulder tapped to take photos. When/if that happens, the team member remains prohibited from posting the photos. Said photos are to be shared with the team leader who will obtain approval from Missions as to which photos are acceptable for sharing.

Posting After a Mission Trip

Team members may post approved photos to social media after the conclusion of the mission trip. Photos considered unacceptable for posting include, but are not limited to: pictures taken at secure locations, pictures taken of secure partners, pictures of children's faces, pictures taken of team members & shared without permission.

I have read and agree to Southeast Christian Church's Social Media Policy.
